

SAS Family Kit

The Secret Agent Society Family Kit contains everything a family needs to participate in the Secret Agent Society Small Group Program (SAS-SG) with a trained SAS Facilitator.

SAS Digital Headquarters

The SAS Digital Headquarters (Digital HQ) is an online platform that provides key digital components of the SAS Small Group Program; four levels of gamified learning, a Mission Journal for self-reflection on real life practise tasks, a multi-user Skill Tracker system (coming soon in 2020), and other tools. SAS Digital HQ is designed to engage children in the learning and practicing of social and emotional skills outside of group sessions.

The SAS Cadet Handbook

The SAS Cadet Handbook is used in sessions and at home to guide learning through the SAS Small Group Program. The Cadet Handbook includes large full-colour illustrations of new skills, group session activities, questions, home-based missions and a secret agent journal for recording how children use their SAS skills in real life.

The SAS Parent Workbook

The SAS Parent Workbook is used in parent sessions and at home to provide parents with a lasting summary of what children learn in the program and tips on how they can help their child use these skills in everyday life.

The SAS Teacher Tip Sheets

The digital SAS Teacher Tip Sheets are provided to teachers incrementally, aligned with the child's progress through the program. This pack contains information sheets, and questionnaires to help school staff support children's social skill development.

The SAS Gadget Pack

The SAS Gadget Pack contains pocket-sized illustrated skill code cards, a code card holder, Emotionometers (emotion thermometers), sticker sheets, an ID tag, Fact File cards, invisible ink pen, Friendship Formula tube, stress ball, Skill Tracker cards and a graduation medal. These fun resources are introduced to children incrementally through the program.
